

Forest Quiz: 20 Trivia Questions and Answers about Animals and Plants

1. Squirrels settle in hollow trees or build nests of moss and thin twigs with two openings. Why two exits?

- To escape in case of danger.
- One entrance for the female, the other for the squirrels.
- One hole for the entrance and one for the exit, it's more convenient.

2. Many animals that inhabit forests hibernate in winter. Which animals stay awake?

- Bear
- Hare

Raccoon

3. Which forest tree is considered sacred in many cultures, as well as a symbol of longevity and physical strength?

Oak

larch

Pine

4. Which forest animal is depicted on a Canadian nickel coin?

Elk

Beaver

Badger

5. There are many flowering plants in the woods that form a colorful, fragrant carpet. What color does the adonis bloom?

Blue

White

Yellow

6. What is the difference between the Amur tiger and the Siberian tiger?

The Amur tiger is larger in size.

The Ussuri tiger has distinctive spots on its muzzle.

These are two names for the same animal.

7. Gray wolves are typical members of the forest fauna. Choose the correct statement about their way of life.

They are monogamous animals that change partners only when they die and live in packs.

There is one alpha male and many females in the pack, they are the ones who do the hunting.

Wolves prefer a solitary lifestyle.

8. What does a raccoon do when it can't escape from a predator chasing it?

He lunges

Pretends to be dead

Freezes in place

9. The trees, shrubs, and grasses in the forest form tiers. What is included in the lowest tier?

- Mosses and lichens
- Ferns
- Grasses

10. This is the northernmost cat to be found in coniferous forests and taiga.

- Lynx
- Tiger
- Cheetah

11. A variety of annual and perennial grasses can be found in the forest. Do you know what type of inflorescence the common dudnik has?

- Compound spike
- Compound umbrella
- Capsule

12. Many forest plants have medicinal properties and are widely used in medicine. Lily of the May is included in ...

- heart medications
- antiemetics
- anticonvulsants

13. Which of these birds is not a bird of prey?

- Grouse
- Common buzzard
- Kestrel

14. Badgers are members of the family of the dun. Who else belongs to this family?

- Weasel
- Mongoose
- Arctic fox

15. Choose the correct answer with the description of the leaves of an alder.

- Simple, sessile, unpaired-pinnate
- Simple, petiolate, dentate
- Compound, pinnate

16. How many fawns per calving does a female red deer give birth to?

- One, rarely two
- Two to three
- Three to four

17. Where do woodpeckers prefer to live?

- In their nests
- In hollow trees
- Both are correct

Forest Quiz: 20 Trivia Questions and Answers about Animals and Plants

Right answers

1. Squirrels settle in hollow trees or build nests of moss and thin twigs with two openings. Why two exits?
To escape in case of danger.
2. Many animals that inhabit forests hibernate in winter. Which animals stay awake?
Hare
3. Which forest tree is considered sacred in many cultures, as well as a symbol of longevity and physical strength?
Oak
4. Which forest animal is depicted on a Canadian nickel coin?
Beaver
5. There are many flowering plants in the woods that form a colorful, fragrant carpet. What color does the adonis bloom?
Yellow
6. What is the difference between the Amur tiger and the Siberian tiger?
These are two names for the same animal.
7. Gray wolves are typical members of the forest fauna. Choose the correct statement about their way of life.
They are monogamous animals that change partners only when they die and live in packs.
8. What does a raccoon do when it can't escape from a predator chasing it?
Pretends to be dead
9. The trees, shrubs, and grasses in the forest form tiers. What is included in the lowest tier?
Mosses and lichens
10. This is the northernmost cat to be found in coniferous forests and taiga.
Lynx
11. A variety of annual and perennial grasses can be found in the forest. Do you know what type of inflorescence the common dudnik has?
Compound umbrella
12. Many forest plants have medicinal properties and are widely used in medicine. Lily of the May is included in ...
heart medications
13. Which of these birds is not a bird of prey?
Grouse
14. Badgers are members of the family of the dun. Who else belongs to this family?

Weasel

15. Choose the correct answer with the description of the leaves of an alder.

Simple, petiolate, dentate

16. How many fawns per calving does a female red deer give birth to?

One, rarely two

17. Where do woodpeckers prefer to live?

Both are correct