

Goji berries Quiz: questions and answers

1. Where is the Lycium barbarum native to?

- South America and Asia
- Southeastern Europe and Asia
- Africa

2. What is the color of goji berries?

- Green
- Red
- Black

3. What is the commonly used English name for goji berries?

- Wolfberries
- Blackberries
- Redberries

4. What are the dimensions of a goji berry leaf?

- 7 centimeters long by 3.5 centimeters broad
- 9 centimeters long by 5.5 centimeters broad
- 5 centimeters long by 2.5 centimeters broad

5. Which country is the main supplier of goji berry products in the world?

- China
- Mongolia

Japan

6. Where does the Latin name Lycium derive from?

- Greek word "lykion"
- Greek word "lykeion"
- Spanish word "lazo"

7. A Chinese man named Li Qing Yuen, who was said to have consumed wolfberries daily, claimed to have lived to the age of:

- 241 years
- 185 years
- 256 years

8. How many tons of goji berries does China produce each year?

- 75,000 tons
- 45,000 tons
- 95,000 tons

9. When was Lycium barbarum introduced in the United Kingdom?

- 1740s
- 1750s
- 1730s

10. Who falsely claimed the Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center in New York had completed clinical studies showing that use of wolfberry juice would prevent 75% of human breast cancer cases?

- Earl Mindell
- Dianne Sanfilippo
- Marion Nestle

Goji berries Quiz: questions and answers

Right answers

1. Where is the Lycium barbarum native to?
Southeastern Europe and Asia
2. What is the color of goji berries?
Red
3. What is the commonly used English name for goji berries?
Wolfberries
4. What are the dimensions of a goji berry leaf?
7 centimeters long by 3.5 centimeters broad
5. Which country is the main supplier of goji berry products in the world?
China
6. Where does the Latin name Lycium derive from?
Greek word "lykion"
7. A Chinese man named Li Qing Yuen, who was said to have consumed wolfberries daily, claimed to have lived to the age of:
256 years
8. How many tons of goji berries does China produce each year?
95,000 tons
9. When was Lycium barbarum introduced in the United Kingdom?
1730s
10. Who falsely claimed the Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center in New York had completed clinical studies showing that use of wolfberry juice would prevent 75% of human breast cancer cases?
Earl Mindell