

Macadamia Quiz: Trivia Questions and Answers

1. What is macadamia?

- A genus of trees
- A genus of frogs
- A genus of ants

2. Where is macadamia indigenous to?

- Indonesia
- Vietnam
- Australia

3. Macadamia is an evergreen genus, what does it mean?

- Macadamia trees have leaves only during the spring
- Macadamia trees have leaves only during the winter
- Macadamia trees have leaves throughout the year

4. How tall are macadamia trees?

- 1 - 5 meters
- 10 - 15 meters
- 2 - 12 meters

5. Who was the first European to discover the macadamia plant?

- Tom Petrie
- Allan Cunningham
- Walter Hill

6. When did William H. Purvis introduce macadamia nuts to Hawaii as a windbreak for sugar cane?

- 1882
- 1872
- 1892

7. Which country is the largest producer of macadamia nuts?

- South Africa
- Brazil
- Australia

8. Where was the first commercial orchard of macadamia trees planted?

- Lismore, New South Wales, Australia
- Bowral, New South Wales, Australia
- Armidale, New South Wales, Australia

9. How many kilograms of macadamia nuts does the South African M. integrifolia / M. tetraphylla hybrid cultivar average annually per tree?

- 22 kg
- 11 kg
- 33 kg

10. What quantity of iron is present in 100g of raw macadamia nuts?

- 3.69 mg
- 3.69 mg
- 85 mg

Macadamia Quiz: Trivia Questions and Answers

Right answers

1. What is macadamia?
A genus of trees
2. Where is macadamia indigenous to?
Australia
3. Macadamia is an evergreen genus, what does it mean?
Macadamia trees have leaves throughout the year
4. How tall are macadamia trees?
2 - 12 meters
5. Who was the first European to discover the macadamia plant?
Allan Cunningham
6. When did William H. Purvis introduce macadamia nuts to Hawaii as a windbreak for sugar cane?
1882
7. Which country is the largest producer of macadamia nuts?
South Africa
8. Where was the first commercial orchard of macadamia trees planted?
Lismore, New South Wales, Australia
9. How many kilograms of macadamia nuts does the South African M. integrifolia / M. tetraphylla hybrid cultivar average annually per tree?
22 kg
10. What quantity of iron is present in 100g of raw macadamia nuts?
3.69 mg