

Seafood Quiz: Trivia Questions and Answers

1. Which period of prehistory goes back to the harvesting, processing, and consumption of seafood?

- Mesolithic
- Neolithic
- Paleolithic

2. What is the cultivation and farming of seafood known as?

- Aquaculture
- Phytology
- Apiculture

3. Which group does the Marine Demersal belong to?

- Crustaceans
- Molluscs
- Fish

4. Which group does the Crab belong to?

- Aquatic plants and microphytes
- Fish
- Crustaceans

5. Which group does Seaweed belong to?

- Aquatic plants and microphytes
- Molluscs
- Crustaceans

6. Which country is the largest seafood consumers per capita in the world?

- Iceland
- Japan
- Both are true

7. How many portions of fish does The UK Food Standards Authority recommend for healthy nutrition?

- 1 portion everyday
- 2 portions each week
- 3 portions each week

8. Which compound do fish and shellfish contain that can be harmful to health?

- Mercury
- Zinc
- Vitamin A

9. In which country did the first widespread mercury poisoning occur?

- Iceland
- Japan
- Portugal

10. Which religion abstains from eating meat on Fridays during Lent?

- Catholicism
- Hinduism
- Judaism

Seafood Quiz: Trivia Questions and Answers

Right answers

1. Which period of prehistory goes back to the harvesting, processing, and consumption of seafood?
Paleolithic
2. What is the cultivation and farming of seafood known as?
Aquaculture
3. Which group does the Marine Demersal belong to?
Fish
4. Which group does the Crab belong to?
Crustaceans
5. Which group does Seaweed belong to?
Aquatic plants and microphytes
6. Which country is the largest seafood consumers per capita in the world?
Both are true
7. How many portions of fish does The UK Food Standards Authority recommend for healthy nutrition?
2 portions each week
8. Which compound do fish and shellfish contain that can be harmful to health?
Mercury
9. In which country did the first widespread mercury poisoning occur?
Japan
10. Which religion abstains from eating meat on Fridays during Lent?
Catholicism